

PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENT FROM THE CAMP DIRECTOR
January 30, 2025

Hey y'all, Erin "Ernie" Wolf here. I've heard from several families recently regarding concerns with our current political climate and what that means for EpiscoWisco Camp 2025.

We here at EpiscoWisco are as committed as ever to the on-going work to offer radical hospitality, welcome, & inclusive spaces for all God's beloved children. It is still our official policy to offer safe, fun experiences within Safe Church & industry standards; regardless of race, nationality, gender identity/expression, status, orientation, hair color, socioeconomic background, nostril hair length, and so forth.

We will continue to offer flexible housing options for any campers who need or want them, as well as other opportunities to make camp a delightful and memorable experience for all (though we can't promise fewer mosquitos - that's a bit beyond our control).

Many have also expressed concerns regarding safety & security concerns. As with any potential risk at camp, we plan for the worst and hope for the best. Like we say in First Aid training, it's better to know what to do in an emergency and not need it than to be in an emergency and not know what to do! We are preparing for a wide range of scenarios, as we do each year, and will cover as much as possible at our staff/CIT training.

If anyone has any additional questions or comments, please contact Camp Director Erin "Ernie" Wolf to discuss.

Thank y'all so much for your time, consideration, and dedication to making EpiscoWisco Camp better every year. On behalf of the leadership here at camp, we look forward to seeing & serving y'all at EpiscoWisco Camp 2025 this summer!

The peace of the Lord be always with y'all!

-Ernie
